SEBASTIANI'S NLW $60,000 CANNERY NEARS COMPLETION

Sonoma's New $60'000 Cannery Near Completion and New York Will Take All We Can Produce.

The new $60,000 cannery being erected on Third Street East by Sam Sebastiani is nearing completion and will be in operation by September. This is the biggest industry Sonoma Valley has ever had and with the return of Mr. Sebastiani from New York this week and the announcement that the Eastern market will take all the produce he can turn out the possibilities of Sonoma's plant are unlimited for Mr. Sebastiani has provided for the expansion of the business and will add to the facilities if necessary. He is in the field for tomatoes and for help. All ready he has contracted for many tons at $15 and better, paying as much as any other concern is his policy. The present capacity of the plant is 2,000 cases daily or about 2,500 boxes. Over a million cans are to arrive within the next three weeks and $5,000 worth of packing cases or about 30,000 are all ready on the ground and stored ready for use.

About 100 girls and women will be employed to peel and can tomatoes this season. Tomato pack and Italian-Spanish sauces will be put up. Girls and women can make $3 a day piece work or if extra good can earn as high as $5 or $6. Twenty men will be required to work and operate the plant and many boys will find employment in carrying and stacking cans.

Most of the machinery has arrived and is being installed. The furnace and boilers with their huge stacks are already in place. The plant is sanitary in every respect and working conditions will be extremely pleasant. All the floors, walks and platforms are of concrete and the building itself is a high type concrete structure with many large sliding doors, windows and sky lights There is second story storage room, elevators, freight sidings etc.

The water plant installed by Mr. Sebastiani yields a splendid supply both for factory necessity and fire protection.. It is three artesian well supply, the water flowing 5 feet over the stand pipes and then being pumped to an immense tank where it is stored.

Mr. Sebastiani was well satisfied with his trip East which was highly remunerative and profitable both in the matter of the market prices for tomatoes, 25 per cent of which will be taken by the government for army use, and also in the market outlook for wine. He reports a growing demand at flattering prices for California wines with Sonoma valley vintage in great favor.

He returned with a feeling of assurance that despite agitation, wine makers would be permitted to dispose of the coming vintage and he announces that he will make the full capacity of his immense cellars.

Sam Sebastiani is one of our most progressive citizens, pays more taxes than anyone in Sonoma and merits the support and cooperation of every one who has the future welfare of Sonoma at heart.

Sonoma Valley has a market for a major portion of all its produce with him and he himself has planted extensively this season. Last year he shipped in grapes to be made into wine at his Sonoma winery, the freight alone on which was over $4,000. This is an indication of the volume of the business done by Mr. Sebastiani whose new enterprise, the Sebastiani Canning Company, is probably the most extensive business of its kind operated and financed by a single individual in California.

FAREWELL PARTY TO DEPARTING SOLDIER

A farewell party will be given tonight to Arthur Kunde, a popular Kenwood boy who leaves for Camp Fremont Monday. It will be a community dance at the Kenwood Club House and all his friends are invited.

SONOMA BOY'S HEROIC WORK

Lieutenant Frederick Duhring Puts In 60 Hour Shifts Carrying Wounded Men From Battle Front "Over There."

With no sleep day or night for 60 hours during which time he hurried wounded soldiers to first aid stations, Lieutenant Frederick Duhring of the Ambulance Corps of the U. S. Army has been doing heroic work at the front right in the heart of the zone where terrific fighting has made the service of the ambulance workers a crying necessity for the past month. He has 20 ambulances in his detachment and writes that so far all have escaped shell fire but one and in that instance the driver escaped although three wounded Boches were inside the ambulance and of their fate he made no comment. In his last letter home the brave Sonoma boy says he had just taken a 24 hour sleep and was trying to gather himself together after the terrific strain he has been subjected to.

LADIES GO TO RED CROSS TODAY!

Although much interest has been evinced in Red Cross work the past month, there is a special urgent need for more workers between now and August 20th as 75 children's night gowns have to be made and forwarded to refugees by that date. The appeal should not go un-heeded by patriotic women of Sonoma valley. Go today and offer your help at the city hall.

The following ladies registered and lent valuable aid during the past month at the rooms of Sonoma's Red Cross.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS TRANSFER

The Bear Flag Garage, owned by Julius Fochetti Jr. has been taken over by Garry Bertoli and will henceforth be known as Garry's Bear Flag Garage. The change was made in the affairs of Mr. Fochetti so that he could succeed his father, Julius Fochetti, the pioneer blacksmith and wagon maker who is to retire from active business after an honored career of many years in Sonoma.

Julius Fochetti Jr. will assume active control of the well established blacksmithing business and his father will take a deserved and well earned rest.

Garry Bertoli, the popular automobile mechanic is prepared to do all kinds of work and will handle it promptly and to the satisfaction of all patrons.

Vines of Napa County Are Heavily Laden Too, But Threatening "Dry" Legislation Makes the Future Uncertain

The grape crop in Napa county as in our own Sonoma Valley never looked finer than right now. It will undoubtedly be a bumper crop, the vines in nearly every everyssection of the County being filled with huge clusters.

But what to do with them?

In view of the very serious manner in which the wine industry is threatened by impending prohibition legislation at Washington wine makers are very chary about making any offers for the grapes.

Reports from various wine-making districts of big prices being offered grape men are not believed here in Napa.

HOODOO WEEK FOR AUTO DRIVERS AND MOTORISTS HAVE NARROW ESCAPES

Disasters to automobiles being driven in this vicinity this week were general and varied from the usual over-turning of light cars to the most unusual and novel as recordered in the Black Point bridge accident

Al Trauvetter, a well known resident of the Vineburg section and the Nelson family had the misfortune in rounding a curve to oveturn in their car on the Napa road. Mr. Trauvetter was badly bruised and his daughter sustained a broken arm.

Two ladies enroute to Dixon from Bennett Valley also met with disaster they were forced to return to Sonoma for medical attention.

A new Dodge from the Home at Eldridge was wrecked on the State highway near Windsor Thursday. Peter Jensen is reported to have been the driver of the Dodge which accidently ran up on a bank and capsized as Jensen was trying to see what was wrong with a companion car driven by F. Johnson. The latter hailed Jensen telling him something was wrong with the fan belt and while looking at Johnson's car he lost control of his own.

The occupants who were boys from the institution were badly cut about the hands and face.

BAD LUCK SINCE LEAVING HERE

In straightening out some business tangles in which Joe Casassi, a former resident of this valley, was involved, it became known that he has had more than his share of troubles since leaving here. It is reported that his baby fell down stairs where they were living in San Francisco and was killed, while another child of his had the misfortune to break its arm. An official in San Francisco writing to one of our local magistrates said from what he could learn Cassassi's cup of sorrow was pretty full of troubles and recommended leniency on the part of his creditors.

Mrs. Lefergy and little son of San Francisco are enjoying a vacation at the DePlace ranch.

O'BRIEN'S DENY RELATIONSHIP

Three Sisters Declare Tim O'Halloran To Have Been no Relative of Family

The following letter has been received from Nellie O'Brien, Mary O'Brien and Alice O'Brien Sperry which the Index-Tribune is pleased to publish in order to correct a statement in last week's issue to the effect that Tim O'Halloran, the old man who was found dead at El Verano was a cousin of theirs. Mrs. Kate O'Brien Carriger was authority for the statement which is emphatically denied and resented by the rest of the family.

El Verano, Cal., July 27, 1918

Mr. Murphy, Sonoma, Cal.

Dear Sir:

On reading the article regarding T. O'Halloran's death we find that you have been misinformed in regard to one point which we wish you would kindly correct, viz: Tim O'Hall oran never was a relation of ours in any way whatever or in the slightest degree and we must emphatically deny same. A niece of his lived in El Verano on the Lewis tract for some time and he resided with her until recently, by name Mrs. Ermatinger.

We further wish to state that he was buried in our plot without our consent and at the first opportunity that is as soon as his relatives can be located and communicated with the body will be exhumed and placed in their charge.

Wishing that you will set this matter right in your next issue, we are,

Very truly yours,

Nellie O'Brien

Over sixty men are now employed in bailing hay on the Jones ranch and the big fields are the scene of much activity.

Miss Lena Keechler daughter of Superintendent Keechler of the Jones ranch returned this week from Burlingame where she had a delightful visit. Miss Bertha returned home last week.

THRILLING EXPERIENCE OF MOTORISTS ON BLACK POINT BRIDGE

Raised High in Air And Autoists Are Forced to Cling to Railing For Their Lives. Two Women and Three Men in accident.

The bridge tender at the Black Point Cut-off State highway bridge must have become tired of the monotony of the sloughs and determined to stage some aerial thriller circus, or acrobatic stunt, for on Tuesday night as the motor car of C. Clementi of Fetters Springs with five occupants was upon the bridge, the huge bascule structure suddenly, without warning began to raise. Two men and two women who were in the car got out and ran toward the end of the bridge calling wildly for help while the driver of the machine stayed at the wheel. The cries of alarm were unheeded as a steamer going to Petaluma was coming and the bridge attendant could not hear nor did he see the victims of the perilous experience. The car and its driver slid back down the steep incline as the span raised to its full height and were precipitated into the water and as the bridge raised, the two women and two men clung desparately to the rails and gate at the top end while the mammoth bascule structure attained its full heighth of 180 feet above the water and remained in mid air with its terrorized victems for 12 minutes. Meanwhile the chaffeur, Amatto Desere had freed himself with difficulty from the big car and was fortunately able to swim and reached the piling of the bridge to which he clung until rescued.

The steamer Petaluma passed through the draw and the bascule span then began to slowly descend and with it the freightened men and women who were all but overcome by the experience and in a little more would have been unable to maintain their grasp and would surely have been killed or maimed for life. Mr. Giannini, one of the men clung by his arms to the gate with his feet dangling in the air. The half drowned auto driver and the rest of the party remonstrated with the bridge tender who voted them very fortunate in having escaped with their lives and said he thought they had passed safely over when he started to raise the bridge. He brought them home to Clementi's resort at Fetters where the driver's condition for a time was serious owing to shock and submersion.

The party had gone from here to San Rafael Tuesday and were returning home at 2:45 a. m. when the accident occurred. The victims of the accident declare there were no gates closed or warning sounded as they drove on to the bridge and when they reached the far end, the gates were closed and the bridge began to open.

The car, a big Olympian, belonged to Mr. Clementi and was a complete wreck when fished out of the waters of the creek Thursday where it had been in 30 f et of water since the accident.

The motorists who had this perilous experience were Mrs. E. W. Daniels, Miss M. Mahon, J. Giannini, G. Garno and the driver Amatto Desere.

District attorney Hoyle, one of the most popular officials of Sonoma County and a candidate for re-election was in town Thursday.

Postmaster John Wagnon has a two weeks vacation and ten days will be spent deer hunting in Mendocino County.

Mr. Proletti of San Luis Obispo County, a nephew of Mayor and Mrs. Chas. Dal Poggetto has been here on a visit.

Miss Amy Engler entertained a number of friends Wednesday, complimentary to Mrs. Wm. von Hacht of Vallejo.

Our Boys Are Making More Than History

AMERICAN TROOPS have matched their strength with the enemy on important strategic ground in France and in conjunction with the Allies have shown the world what calibre of men they are. After the boastful and contemptious opinion which German leaders had of our troops before they went into action, it is with some pride and satisfaction that we read of their achievments over there. Their brothers in arms have acknowledged their magnificient spirit and military fitness and we know they are fighting the fight which the best of the world is making to assure us and those who come after us, freedom from the iron yoke and heel of militarism. After the way we in the United States slumbered and attuned our ear to the seductive strains of peace preachment as prescribed by German propagandists for many years ante-dating the war, it is remarkable that under it all was this potential fighting strain which has developed so magnificiently under the spur of a national conscience wherein justice and humanity have been the compelling influences. The supreme test of the admixture of all nations is being demonstrated in this war. It is an acid test and the finished product of the American melting pot is giving a wonderful account of itself thus far. It is perhaps a grim necessity in the scheme of things that this high type blend of all people of the earth loving and venerating Democracy wishing to live under it and willing to die for it, should be forced to pass through this ordeal of a terrific world war in order that all mankind may have a nucleus and be welded together into an ultimate and real brotherhood of man. To be the forerunner of this greatest of conditions and to strike at the satanic and baleful influence which has been undermining the possibilities of such a condition is the privelege of some of our very own boys. Not only as a nation but as a community we should thrill at the thought of playing a part in so vital and stupendous an epoch in the evolution of the peoples of the earth. Future generations will most assuredly thrill at the great epic whose material is now in the process of the making and great volumes will treasure records we now peruse as news.

Coroner Phillips A Loyal Friend of Sonoma

A FACTION in Petaluma, renowned for jealousy and wanting to covet everything in sight in the way of business is opposing Coroner Frank Phillips, who believes in giving all localities a chance, as he has in Sonoma where our funeral director, monument builders and others have been accorded consideration and given business whenever possible. Coroner Phillips does not believe in giving any Petaluma undertaker all his business nor has he been bulldozed into giving his legal work to an attorney there who is now fighting him because he cannot run him. Coroner Phillips is a broad minded man and progressive citizen. He may not have the funerial aspect and sanctimonious pose so dear to hypocrites, but he is 100 per cent good citizen and an honest, efficient official.

His broadminded good citizenship was exemplified at the time Sonoma Valley was trying to get the Black Point Cutoff. Opposition developed in Petaluma and a spirit was manifest there which Petaluma afterwards was ready to admit was quite narrow and provincial. Dr. Phillips, a Petaluma man, was quick to see the shortsighted policy and did all in his power to help Sonoma and succeeded in getting Lyman Green, then a Supervisor, to favorably consider the plan.

It is this trait in Coroner Phillips which has won him friends every where. He may have his faults like we all have, but they are small indeed when compared with his good record and excellent qualities.

Social Insurance To Be Voted Upon

IT WOULD SEEM that the people of California would turn down all experimental schemes for betterment when they realize already the growing cost of what we have and the clumsy methods by which they are sought to be put into effect. The most pronounced effort to grab off more money is the compulsory health insurance proposition which voters will be called upon to decide at the coming November election. Here is a little light on the subject as seen from the point of view of the California Society for the study of Social Insurance;

"A drive is on in California for the enactment of a compulsory health insurance law similar to the one which Bismarck put in force in Germany and which, together with other laws of a like nature, Ambassador Gerard says has reduced the wage earners of that country almost to a condition of serfdom.

Compulsory health insurance has been thoroughly investigated by Commissions and Legislators in the Eastern States, and without exception has been emphatically turned down. Maryland, Massachusetts, New York, and also the United States Government have all rejected it.

The cost of the insurance in California has been variously estimated at from twenty-five to fifty million dollars a year, that is from ten to twenty dollars annually for each person, or from fifty to one hundred dollars for each family of five members. This alone condemns the system in the mind of all the people except the host of politicians and job seekers who alone would profit by it. The proposition comes before the voters for their decision at the November election.

After visiting Healdsburg last Sunday and viewing the wonderful grape crop and wine plants in that vicinity we are not surprised at the indignation felt there on pending prohibition legislation which will be voiced at a big mass meeting there tomorrow. Following is a clipping from a Healdsburg paper in regard to the proposed gathering.

"In answer to a telegram sent some time ago to President Wilson by the Ministerial Union of Santa Rosa, in which it was stated that "the element opposed to prohibition in this county does not represent any considerable body of citizens, of whom many believe that Sonoma County will not be ebnefitted (by prohibitionar), as well as the country at large," the Italians of northern Sonoma County are planning to hold a big mass meeting at which able speakers and experts in the wine industry will demonstrate with data and figures what a great damage it would be to Sonoma County and this section in particular should the proposed prohibition be made law by Congress.

A memorandum signed by all the Italians present at the meeting will be sent to the President.

C. C. Young is the "dry" candidate for Lieutenant Governor and is on the ticket with Wm. D. Stephens instead of that other "dry" candidate for Lieutenant Governor that camouflaged personage, Mr. Rominger who has a bill as a name sake which is presumably a kind of wet measure and therefore tends to make Mr. Rominger non eligible as a running mate for "bone dry" Stephens. Rominger wants to be Lieutenant Governor and wants the child of his brain to carry also.

There is still another candidate for the office besides Young and Rominger and one more acceptable to those who who have not become obsessed with prohibmania, Jo V. Snyder, former member of the Legislature and a citizen of splendid qualifications. Mr. Snyder will get the votes of the many who dislike reformers and pretenders.

Poor Ammunition

THE PEANUT ROASTER renews its dirty politics this week seeking to malign Coroner Phillips because it has gotten a little encouragement from some sorehead politicians. If these has-beens knew the calibre of the squirt gun which takes a shot at the popular official they would gird themselves with something more than the mouthings of a parrot when they start out to try and "get" Dr. Phillips. It shows that his enemies are in poor straits when they have to grab off that kind of stuff to use against him. Review some of the fights this sheet has made and form your own conclusions.

WE BELIEVE in singing the praises of our own candidates instead of knocking the other fellow.

ONE PAPER says, Heney is a polished speaker. Smooth some ways and lumpy in others eh?

THE MASSES, not the classes, spell democracy. How about the Prohibition spell binders?

IMPORTANT ARREST AT EL VERANO

The Sheriff of Sonoma county, assisted by Deputy Sheriff Murray, arrested at an El Verano resort Friday afternoon an alleged swindler who is said to have been operating under the guise of conducting a great charitable organization, with pure milk for babies and other similar high and noble aims, and turned over to the San Francisco police James Jordan Worthington, who has been sought for nearly a week. The fellow was conducting a publication called "The Little Children fo the Poor," in which he printed his appeals for help in the name of charity and related his great generosity and benefactions.

That Worthington's game was profitable is shown by references to his bankbook which notes receipts of $300 a day from his dupes. The metropolitan police assert that he is a fraud and that all contributions went to his own comfort, aid and assistance.

Letters addressed to James Jordon Worthington, alleged "charity faker" have furnished new clews to his operations, according to the San Francisco police.

L. J. Sutton, head of the Western Printing Company, said Worthington had no connection with his firm. Worthington, he said, had offices in the same building and his printing was done by Sutton's firm. According to the police, Worthington represented himself when arrested as president of the printing firm.

In addition to the three original charges of petty larceny, three new similar charges and a charge of having used the United States mails for the purpose of defrauding, will be filed against him.

Worthington, the officers state, registered in El Verano as H. W. James, and the register also said, "wife, mother and sister." Mrs. James, however, the officers state, was found to be Mrs. Lulu Westphal, who was Worthington's chief clerk in the city offices, where 35 girls were employed in sending out mail with a view of securing money from these poor, starving children."

Worthington declared that he had no intention of jumping his $1500 bail, but that he just went away for a rest, and took Mrs. Westphal with him to protect her from notoriety in the case.

Worthington has been publishing a magazine which he called "The Little Children of the Poor."

Misses Millerick of Petaluma have been over on a visit to Schellville relatives.

FOOD WILL WIN THE WAR

The Farm Advisors office is now trying to ascertain in what ways Sonoma County may increase her food production for the coming year. Food production in Sonoma County can be increased materially by (1) by planting areas not now under cultivation; (2) by planting areas to essential crops that are now in non-yield of crops by a better expenditure of labor and materials and (4) by a better distribution of farm animals.

Several sections of the county have considerable areas of tillable land that have been in pasture for many years. Where these lands have not been too heavily stocked they are now ready to produce heavy crops of many kinds. The plant food that has been stored in these soils is like money in the bank for the owners. The time has come to prepare to loan that money to the Nation.

Much can also be done in Sonoma County by substituting essential crops for non-essential crops. Tomatoes, beans, corn or potatoes for hops are some of the possibilities along this line. What to recommend in case of wine grapes depends on legislative action at Washington.

A better use of materials and labor will do much towards increasing food production. The use of Petaluma chicken manure on Sonoma County lands is strongly recommended. This practice will result in the saving of freight and in the increase of our products. The greater use of lime on Sonoma County soils may also prove to be an important source of more food. The better distribution of animals by placing them in small numbers on a large number of farms will result in the saving of a large quantity of feed that might otherwise go to waste. The hog campaign was and example of this method of increasing food production.

During August a campaign to increase the production of mutton and wool in Sonoma County will be prosecuted by the Farm Bureau. As a result of this campaign it is hoped that a large number of ewes from the ranges that are now destined for the slaughter house will be saved for one more year of usefulness by placing them on farms where feed conditions are not as severe as they are on the ranges. Sheep range men having ewes for sale are urged to list them at the Farm Advisers office and any farmer who is willing to undertake sheep raising should get in touch with those having sheep to sell.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Murphy who attended a session of the County Press Associatiopn at Healdsburg Sunday praised the arrangements for the entertainment of the visiting scribes as perfected by Messrs Cook and Baer. The dinner was par excellence and Healdsburg appreciates its beautiful flowers as evidenced at the grill. After dinner there was a drive to Fitch mountain and Russian river resorts. Harry Lutgens of the Sebastopol Times placed his fine big new car the disposal of the sight seers

Gallant Rains, candidate for Supervisor, who underwent an operation for the amputation of his foot left the hospital Wednesday and is said to be out of danger.

Through her attorney, R. A. Poppe, Mrs. J. Fields has had the property where she resides at El Verano set aside as a homestead.

Frank Knolle and Rea Hunter are to go out after the elusive deer tonight in the vicinity of Kenwood.

Cecil Hunter is one of our young 100 per cent patriots-picking fruit and buying Thrift Stamps with the money he earns.

JIMMY GREEN'S ASSAILANT HELD FOR TRIAL

John Haller, charged with assault with a deadly weapon following the shooting of James P. Green, of Nicasico, was held for trial in the Superior court this morning by Justice of the Peace, De La Montanya, and placed under bail of $2,000.

Mrs. S. J. Stewart and William Reardon testified to having seen the shooting.

District Attorney Butler prosecuted and Attorney Roy C. Lewis represented the defendant. No testimony was introduced by the defense.

The men had been employed on the Stewart ranch, and the shooting, it was testified to, arose over the killing of Haller's dog.

Before going to Nicasio to work on a ranch Green was employed here by the Emparans.

Miss Eva Borcelli of San Francisco spent six weeks with her cousin, Catherine Laurenzi. While here she had a most pleasant time.

RYAN IS MAN FOR SHERIFF

Sonoma's Favorite Son Logical Successor To Present Incumbent and Indications Point To Big Majority.

From all over Sonoma county encouraging reports are coming in relative to the handsome vote Joe Ryan Sonoma's favorite son and candidate for Sheriff is going to get on August 27th. The fact that he polled such a big vote at the last election in the running with Jack Smith, one of the most popular officials Sonoma County ever had is enough in itself to indicate what he will do this year with Smith out of the race. His present rival is a Healdsburg man, well liked and esteemed by a large following in that section of the county but Joe Ryan's priority in the contest, the fact that it was generally conceded that he would hearken to the demands of his many friends that he make the race this time, has given him an advantage which will be difficult to overcome. Many former supporters of Smith are now for Ryan as they promised to be four years ago and it is said that the present Sheriff's deputies are all working for the Sonoma candidate although they could have been assured reappointment under Mr. Petray had they agreed to support him.

Joe Ryan merits the support of every man and woman in this county. When it comes to setting forth qualifications no man can go Joe one better for he has all the qualities of both an efficient fearless officer and good citzen. As a man he is endowed with the best traits and he is a shining example of a thorough temperance man without being a "dry." Ryan commands the respect of all who know him and his well balanced judgment, honesty and conscientious ness have won him respect and friendship everywhere. As a patriot he has performed the greatest service since chosen for the important work on the exemption board and he has broadned and renewed his field of acquaintance during his months of service in that important position. Joe Ryan has a claim on the vote of every voter in Sonoma County this year and in voting for him they will be commending a high-type man for public office. Vote for Joe Ryan for Sheriff of Sonoma County.

REGISTRATION SHOWS 1400 VOTERS QUALIFY

Interest in Politics Grows And Over 100 Registered Last Two Days.

The days just prior to Saturday, the 27th of July which was the last date to register prior to the Primary Election, August 27, were marked by brisk registration, over 100 voters having registered the last two days previous to closing time with George Breitenbach alone while other registrars were also kept busy. Mr. Breitenbach's total registration was 845 voters.

Emmet Mullen of El Verano reports 215 registered with him. W. R. Hansen of Vineburg registered over 100, Angelo Beretta recorded over 125 names, Steve Prout of Glen Ellen had 100 or more on his books which brings the total registration up to about 1400 in Sonoma valley.

valley with Boyes Springs still to be heard from.

A great many have registered as Republicans this year who were formerly Prohibitionists, with the evident intent of casting their ballot for Stephens, the Republican nominee endorsed by the "drys". On the other hand, Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco is developing quite a following, his broad, progressive platform making a strong appeal to Republicans who believe that a San Francisco man knows how to administer affairs in the interest of the masses and admire Mayor Rolph for his business like administration of affairs in the metropolis.

Miss Celia Thomson is down on the Bay cities visiting friends and relatives.

Agua Caliente Springs hotel has been crowded the past month with tourists and visitors.

Dancing at Fetters is as popular as ever, and big crowds show the popularity of the resort and its excellent music. As no liquor is sold, Fetters is not governed by the midnight closing law and the crowds enjoy themselves until the wee small hours.

WHAT PETALUMA THINKS OF CORONER PHILLIPS

If ever there was a public official who deserved reelection, that man is Dr. Frank H. Phillips, who is just rounding out his first term as coroner and public administrator. Since his election to office four years ago, Dr. Phillips has been "on the job" every minute of every day and night, ready and willing to respond to the call of duty and to go anywhere in the county from Stewart's Point or Cazadero to Lakeville or Sonoma.

During his nearly four years of service he has traveled thousands of miles in the discharge of his duties as coroner and has personally conducted all but one of the inquests held.

In the investigation into causes of death, in cases where there was reason to believe that death was due to other than natural causes, he has been absolutely fearless and has insisted upon the fullest investigations in all cases. He also probably holds the record for achievements along the line of identifying unknown dead and in the splendid work of locating relatives of deceased persons so that they might have knowledge of the bereavement and opportunity to provide suitable burial for the deceased.

And it may also be truthfully said that never did a coroner in any county show more commendable consideration for the eternal fitness of things in the discharge of his official duties. On many occasions Dr. Phillips has saved from the Potter's field the remains of unfortunates and in all cases the burial of indigent dead has been conducted under his supervision in a manner worthy of the highest praise.

As public administrator, Dr. Phillips has handled the estates of more than the usual number of deceased persons. In each and every case every possible precaution has been taken to protect these estates so that relatives living at distant points, often in distant lands, might receive the greatest possible net return. In the discharge of his official duties as administrator Dr. Phillips has had the advice and counsel of Attorney Will T. Mooney, of Petaluma, and that is sufficient guarantee that the affairs and accounts of the office of the public administrator of this county have been at all times kept at the highest point of economy and efficiency.

Dr. Phillips has made good. He deserves to be, and will be re-elected. —Petaluma Argus

WAR HELP RECORD OF SONOMA

Tabulation By War Council Committee Grows and 50 per cent of Registrations is Complete

The registration of Sonoma Valley people in regard to the amount of aid given the war and other phases of their citizenship or attitude on matters vital to the successful prosecution of the war has progressed under the direction of Dr. Gobar and his aides until now fully 50 per cent of the entire valley has been registered and card indexed under the supervision of the Community War Council. Sonoma Valley leads many of our neighboring communities in this work and the government which is desirous of knowing the status of communities and has taken this method to find out, will find Sonoma up and doing, prompt in the execution of the task imposed and from present indications doing a full share to help win the war. It is not as a community that the authorities are as much concerned as it is a matter of individual patriotism and responsibility. The record is being sought of each individual and each family in the several localities where registrations are at work.

Local registrars report a few cases where there has been a hesitancy about giving data and in some cases there have been refusals. Dr. Gobar declares that all such cases will be reported to the loyalty committee which will investigate. This committee will find out whether those taking this attitude feel that they have been slackers, are ashamed of their record or are out and out disloyal.

The town of Sonoma has been entirely registered and also the State Home at Eldridge which has a proud record. Deputy Gallagher who filled out the cards at the big institution has a wonderfully complete record There were 176 bond buyers at the Home, $9400 worth of the first issue were purchased by the state employees, 13300 of the Second Liberty Loan and over $12000 worth of the Third. The buyers were engaged in 48 different occupations. One Eldridge couple bought $2600 worth of bonds each. The Red Cross and Thrift Stamp record were remarkable the Belgian relief fund benefited to the extent of over $2500 and the Tobacco Fund $140.

In Sonoma Precinct 1 out of 191 men and women so far tabulated, 108 were bond buyers. Out of 71 property owners 28 bought no bonds, 155 out of the 191 were membersof the Red Cross. The occupations showed 52 kinds of work in which our people are engaged.

One thousand cards have already been turned in and the work is progressing very rapidly.

Dr. Gobar addressed the people of Vineburg at the picture house there last Tuesday evening, explaining the importance of the work and asking all possible cooperation.

DEATH FOR SWEARING.

Profanity In the Early Centuries Was a Capital Offense.

Relieving one's mind in a profane way used to be a costly proposition. In the ninth century Justinian punished swearing by death By the statutes of Donald VI. and Kenneth II. the north Briton had the offending member cut out when the tongue ran riot, Philip II. of France ordered those guilty drowned in the Seine, and the council of Constantinople excommunicated any one that swore heathen oaths.

In 1551 a man could swear in Scotland for 12 pennies per cuss The higher you were in rank the more you had to pay for the privilege of oaths Perhaps it was figured that the common people should be given wholesale rates.

By an act of the sixth and seventh years of the reign of William and Mary servants, day laborers, common soldiers and common sailors were fined 1 shilling a swear; others were taxed 2 shillings The swearing schedule in the household of Henry I. was 40 shillings fine for a swear word by a duke, 20 for a lord, 10 for a squire, 3s. 4d. for a yeoman and "a page to be whipt."

The law that provided fines for swearing led Jonathan Swift to his prospectus of the "bank of swearing" during the speculative craze at the time of the south sea bubble. This bank was to have a monopoly of collecting the fines of those who swore, and Swift said: "It is said there are 2,000,000 in the kingdom (Ireland), of which 1,000,000 are swearing souls. There are an estimated 5,000 gentlemen, and every gentleman can afford to swear one oath a day, which will produce 1,825,000 oaths a year, or £91,250."

In 1592 at Aberdeen the council naively told the head of the house to have a box placed for the collection of the fines imposed upon the household for swearing.—Chicago Tribune.

MOTOR TRAVEL INCREASES OVER TRANS-BAY FERRY ROUTES

Motor car travel between the cities of Alameda County and north of the Bay districts has increased to such an extent during recent years that the transportation facilities which were adequate to handle this business a few years ago would be unable to do so today.

The establishment of the service between Richmond and Point San-Quentin has been a great boon to motorists of the cities of Alameda County. Before this ferry service was inaugurated motorists, who wished to tour in Marin, Sonoma, Lake and Napa Counties had first to cross to San Francisco and then take the ferry to Sausalito before they were on the way to destination; now, however, Oakland and Alameda motorists can drive direct to Richmond and take the ferry across they bay to Point San Quentin, thereby saving a great deal of time and driving distance iin their tour to the scenic North Bay county section.

To inform the motoring public of the many beautiful spots in this section, and to aid them in planning one, two and three day tours, the Richmond and San Rafael Transportation Company have just issued an attractive folder which describes in detail many splendid tours available to motorists in that section. The map which accompanies the descriptive matter will be found of great benefit and will enable motorists to plan their touring intelligently. Mr. Charles Van Damme, President of the company, who is a motorist, is always looking out for the betterment of his service, and with that end in view, has made it a point to keep abreast of of the times, and in every way has seen that the facilities of his ferry are at the disposal of the motoring public. "I feel", said Mr. Van Damme, "that the importance of the automobile traffic between the eastern and western shores of San Francisco Bay is worth all the attention we can give it." The hearty support which the motorists have given our ferry indicates that we have filled a niche in transportaton business that, before the event of our system, was void." "Though we have only been in operation a few years our route has become so well known that I can safely say it is one of the main lines of motor travel between Alameda and the North of the Bay Section."

HOW TO START A CANCER.

Some Very Common Practices It Would Be Well to Avoid.

An English scientist, interested in the attempts to conquer cancer, suggests the following methods by which a cancer may be produced:

"It is not easy to produce a cancer artificially; nevertheless, if you try enough you will succeed sometimes. Encourage your patients to smoke clay pipes with the varnished ends broken off or to retain sharp edged stumps of teeth in their jaws, and you may fairly expect now and then to witness the de novo production of cancer. The same end may be attained with yet more certainty should you have it in your power to select cases for the experiment in which there already exists some local evidence of chronic irritation. For instance, you may tell a patient who has a little wart or an irritable crack in his lip that he may go on smoking and amuse himself by picking off the crust whenever he has a little spare time and come to you again in six months. This is a very certain method. In another instance you may assure a man with a little pimple near the angle of the eye that it is of no consequence, not worth an operation, and advise him to apply cold cream. In a year or two's time he will probably be able to show you a very interesting example of rodent ulcer (a form of so called skin cancer).

It is obvious that the Englishman who suggests these methods does not offer them in the hope that they will be followed, but quite the contrary. He might have added that although "it is not easy to produce cancer artificially," it is still less easy to cure it, artificially or otherwise. Indeed, the fight against cancer has been one of the least successful in the whole category of medical battles. It is also one of the oldest. —Los Angeles Times.

Amphibious Forces.

The use of naval forces on land is, of course, by no means novel, but not every one knows that it is a direct reversal of the policy adopted in the early days of the navy. Under Cromwell's rule army officers were placed in command of war vessels, and the great Admiral Blake was a colonel in the new model army before he went to sea. Another notable soldier to be placed in command at sea was General Monk, first duke of Albemarle, who justified the transference by winning two great sea fights against the Dutch.—Dundee Advertiser.

Why He Objected.

"Now," said the principal to one of the pupils at the close of the lesson in which he had touched on the horrors of war, "do you object to war, my boy?"

"Yes, sir; I do," was the fervent answer.

"Now tell us why."

"Because," said the youth, "wars make history, an' I jest hate history." —Exchange.

VINEBURG

It is the opinion of a great many voters in this section that the present incumbent for Prosecuting Attorney will be re-elected, as since the retirement of C. F. Lea he has proven himself without any doubt to be the right man to the office he aspires and we will vote for G.W. according to "Hoyle" and all of you do the same.

Jesse Prestwood candidate for Superintendent of Schools should be taken into consideration in this coming election as no man has done more in this part of Sonoma County than he has for education and also other activities which benefit the public.

Miss Edith Lowell accompanied by her brother Master Frederick Jr. are the guests of San Francisco friends this week.

Mrs. Edward Bosquit and son Alfred returned to their San Francisco home on Friday after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Batto. Miss Louise Batto accompanied the party and will be the guest of friends and relatives for a fortnight.

Henry Forni has just completed a packing shed for the Earl Fruit Co. and a number of hands are now engaged in packing pears for the Eastern Market.

Emil Jesse Mc Curdy secretary of the California Baking company and Elmer Barker who holds a responsible position at the Union Iron Works are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Raynal at Vineyard Villa. Mr. Mc Curdy counts this his 18th vacation to Vineburg and hopes to spend as many more among his old time friends.

Emil Andrieux who in days before the war was a well known base ball star in Sonoma but is now employed in San Francisco was exchanging greetings with Vineburg friends on Sunday last.

A large quantity of fruit is being shipped from this point at the present time as high as 6 car loads a day and also large quantities of wine so between Battos Spur and Peaceful Vineburg, Sonoma will have to wake.
